Date: October 18-20, 2019

Location: Chang Chun, Jilin, China

Contact Person: Kevin Jiang

Call Deadline: 18-May-2019

Meeting Description:

With metadiscourse gaining importance in discourse analysis and language teaching, we are pleased to announce that Metadiscourse across Languages and Contexts will take place 18-20 October, 2019, at Jilin University, Chang Chun, China. This international conference aims to bring together academics, researchers, practitioners and research students from around the world to discuss the latest developments in the field and to share perspectives on related issues with various qualitative and quantitative approaches.

Call for Papers:

Metadiscourse is a key resource in language, allowing the writer to engage with readers in familiar and expected ways, and as such it is an important tool with which interaction is studied in genres and contexts. It also reflects linguistic differences between languages and contrastive rhetoric between cultures. Given the growing interest metadiscourse gains, this international conference investigates the use of metadiscourse across languages and contexts. You are invited to submit proposals for individual papers, colloquia, demonstration sessions and poster displays that address any topic relevant to metadiscourse which include:

- Contrastive analysis
- Discourse/genre studies
- EAP/ESP
- Identity and stance
- Translation and corpora
- Cross/inter-cultural communication
